Meeting date: July 8, 2013
Due date: June 21, 2013

The Warren Environmental Commission discussed this at their June 18, 2013 meeting. The Commissioners suggest planting native plants (list attached) to compensate for waiver. They also wanted to know if there is a way to reduce drywell coverage with something more natural like a raingarden. They felt it was positive to eliminate impervious coverage.

Case #PB-13-03

Douglas Jamieson
Block 160, Lot 3
Minor Subdivision/Public
Meeting date: TBA
Due date: May 17, 2013

The Warren Environmental Commission discussed this at their June 18, 2013 meeting. The Commissioners stated that they do not want septic systems in flood zone because if they break down, there is septic waste in the water. They asked if there is a way to reduce drywell coverage with something more natural like raingarden? They also stated that a waiver for stormwater management plan is a problem.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:57PM

Respectfully submitted,
