

Warren Township named #3 on Safewise's "New Jersey's 50 Safest Cities List"

The Township Committee is pleased to announce that Safewise has named Warren Township #3 in its list of the 50 Safest Cities in New Jersey for 2018.

Mayor Victor Sordillo remarked that “this recognition by Safewise is a result of the dedication of the Warren Township Police Department to prevent crime and ensure the safety of the residents and businesses of the Township.” The Mayor further commented that “the actions of residents looking out for one another assists the Police Department in providing a safe environment.”

Police Chief William Keane commented, “As always, I am proud of the hardworking officers and their efforts to ensure the best environment for the residents of Warren Township. I also would like to thank the Warren Township Committee for their ongoing support and understanding of what our department needs to continue to keep safety a top priority.”

“Warren is not only a special community, but a safe community,” said Deputy Mayor Gary DiNardo.
